

Evergreen Trees In Ireland

In our school in Dublin

We went on a walk around the school grounds and the wildlife garden.

We took photos of evergreen leaves.

The Holly Tree

Here is a holly tree in our school garden.

The Holly Leaf

Holly is a spiky leaf. This stops animals from eating the leaves.
It is also a sign of Christmas cheer.
You would find holly in fancy Christmas meals.

The Cedar Tree

The Cedar tree is a tall tree.
The wood is very thin.

We found the Cedar Tree in our School
Grounds.

The Cedar Leaf

The leaves are very small and spikey, and grow in bunches. The twig breaks easily.

The Lelandia Tree

The Lelandia Leaf

The Lelandia leaves are very small and spread out. The shape of the twig is curvy.

We thought the leaves were soft, bendy and skinny.

The Lelandia Tree is in our Wildlife Garden.

Hazel Tree

The Hazel tree droops down. The tree has long branches. It also has lots and lots of branches.

The Hazel Tree is in the School Grounds.

Hazel Leaf Bud and fruit

The hazel bud is hard and small. The fruit is soft, furry, and squishy.

We liked looking at trees. It was nice to get out into the fresh air.
