

Getting in the Light

I am just about to press the switch, when I look at everyone. I see Mum exhausted but she won't be anymore.

My Dad is happy for the first time since the war was over. My Granny and Grandad are more excited than I am.

My brother and sister look like there going to burst.

3, 2, 1, we shout and I flick the switch. Then all of a sudden the light bulb flickers and a bright light appeared. I am so happy, wait no we all are.
