

True Dolphin Tales

By Lauren Ava Martin 😊

These are fantastically amazing true stories about dolphins! Hope you enjoy it:)

This is the first story which took place in America. This woman and her fiancé decided to take a trip to the beach. She paid to go swimming with dolphins. It was fun until a dolphin kept on hitting her at her side. Luckily, she was taken out of the water and was sent to hospital. The doctor checked and said there was a big bruise and she'd be fine but just to be safe, she should stay at the hospital. When the swelling went down, the doctor took an x-ray and when he saw what he saw, he was utterly shocked. There was a tumour right where the dolphin had hit her! The dolphin smelled the cancer, and tried to help! Since they caught the cancer early, she survived. All because of that smart dolphin!

Here's the last dolphin tale. This took place in New Zealand. A group of young girls went swimming in the sea. Suddenly, a pod of dolphins started swimming in a circle around the girls! The girls were really frightened. The dolphins kept on swimming round, and round the girls. The lifeguard was getting worried. He jumped into the water and then he saw a shark! The dolphins were protecting
