

WEEKLY UPDATE

19/09/24

Library update

We have an amazing team of parents currently working to update our library- both its books and its looks! They are looking for specific books to add to the already wide selection of titles available. You will get an email next week with details of the books they are looking for and how you can donate. Thank you to all involved.

Contacting teachers via email

If you need to make contact with a teacher please send an email to info@retns.ie and Carol will pass it on. Thank you.

Responding to School Avoidance – What can a parent do?

Monday, 23rd September at 7pm online

School avoidance is a very difficult matter for parents and children. It can cause stress and conflict in the family home. It can be hard for parents to know how to respond. This short webinar will look at some of the reasons why children and adolescents avoid school. Strategies for supporting your child, managing conflict about school, and accessing support will be presented. There will be an opportunity for parents to bring questions to the session.
